This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

SUMMARY.

AGRICULTURE.

LAND IN FARMS.

The total number of acres of land in the State as shown by the plat books in the office of the Commissioner of the State Land Office, is 36,443,346.4. The number of acres in farms, as returned by census enumerators June 1, 1884, is 14,852,226, or nearly 41 per cent of the total land area of the State. The total number of farms returned is 159,605. In 1880 the number of acres in farms was returned at 13,807,240, and number of farms at 154,008. In 1884 no farm was returned of less than three acres unless two hundred dollars' worth of produce had been actually sold off from it during the year. In 1880 no farm of less than three acres was reported unless five hundred dollars' worth of produce was sold off from it during the year.

The following table shows for the State and counties the per cent of the number of acres of land in farms to the total land area:

IMPROVED LAND.

The number of acres of improved land in farms in 1884 was 8,974,656; in 1880, 8,296,862. The area of improved land in farms was greater in 1884 than in 1880 by 677,794 acres, being an average annual increase of 169,448 acres. From 1870 to 1880 the average annual increase in area of improved land in farms was 319,992 acres. It should be noted here that the questions relating to improved land were much more specific in 1880 and 1884 than in 1870, and it is probable that in consequence certain lands were reported in 1884 and 1880 as improved that were not so reported in 1870.

Of improved land, the area returned as "tilled," including fallow and grass in rotation (whether pasture or meadow) is 7,997,541 acres, as compared with 7,275,125 acres in 1880, and the area of permanent meadows, permanent pastures, orchards and vineyards is returned at 977,115 acres, as compared with 1,021,737 acres returned in 1880.

The following table shows, for the State and each county, the number of acres of improved land as returned at the censuses of 1884 and 1880:

The number of rods of open ditches on farms is returned at 6,301,944, equivalent to 19,693 miles, and the number of rods of tile ditches on farms is returned at 4,170,325, equivalent to 13,032 miles.

FARM VALUES.

Farms, including land, fences, and buildings, were valued, in 1884, at $571,443,462; in 1880, at $499,103,181. Farming implements and machinery were valued, in 1884, at $21,897,486; in 1880, at $19,419,360. Live stock on farms was valued, in 1884, at $70,626,248; in 1880, at $55,720,113. The farm productions of 1883 are valued, in the census of 1884, at $85.890,094. The productions of 1879 are valued, in the census of 1880, at $91,159,858.

WAGES.

The wages paid for out-door farm labor during 1883, including value of board, amounted to $11,923,055, and the amount paid for in-door farm and dairy labor, including value of board, was $1,609,640, making a total of $13,532,695 paid for farm labor during 1883.

COST OF FERTILIZERS.

The cost of fertilizers purchased in 1883 was $265,673, as compared with $300,995 expended in 1879.

CEREALS.

WHEAT.—The area in wheat in 1883 was 1,709,535 acres. The area in 1879, as returned in the census of 1880, was 1,822,749 acres. This is the largest wheat acreage ever returned for this State. The area returned for 1883 is 113,214 acres less than returned for 1879. Of the total area in wheat in 1883, 1,691,577 acres were in winter wheat, and 17,958 acres in spring wheat. The average yield per acre of winter wheat was 15 and 13-hundredths bushels, and of spring wheat 13 and 52-hundredths bushels. The average of winter and spring wheat was 15 and 12-hundredths bushels. The average yield per acre of wheat in 1879, as shown by the census of 1880, was 19 and 49-hundredths bushels.

CORN.—The number of acres of corn raised in 1883 is returned at 866,144, and the yield at 19,421,938 bushels. The area in corn in 1879 was 919,656 acres, and the yield 32,461,452 bushels.

The season of 1883 was the most unfavorable for corn of any for a number of years. The injury to the crop was noted in the Michigan Crop Report for September, 1883, as follows:

"We make no estimate for corn. The excessive rains that continued until late in July, and the severe drouth since, have nearly ruined the crop. Corn on high, sandy soil will doubtless yield fairly well, but the crop as a whole is far below an average. In October, after some portion of the crop has been cribbed, it may be possible to make a reasonably accurate estimate of the yield."

On the 8th and 9th of September there were heavy frosts in nearly all parts of the State. In the October Report the condition of the corn crop was summed up as follows:

"Had the weather during the fall been exceptionally favorable the corn crop would not have exceeded one-half of an average crop. Inquiries made since the severe frosts of September 8 and 9 have elicited the following information: In the southern tier of counties possibly 14 per cent, and in the second, third, and fourth tiers 10 or 12 per cent of the crop has fully ripened. In the first, second, and third tiers of counties only one-fifth to one-third, and in the fourth tier about one-eighth, of the crop may be safely cribbed. In the northern counties possibly three per cent of the crop has fully ripened, and 10 per cent of it will do to crib. In the first tier 10 per cent, in the second 5, in the third 15, and in the fourth tier and counties north, about 30 per cent of the acreage planted has been plowed up or abandoned."

OATS.—The number of acres of oats raised in 1883 was 650,928, as compared with 536,187 acres raised in 1879. The total yield in 1883 was 21,324,130 bushels, and the average per acre 32 and 76-hundredths bushels. The total yield in 1879 was 18,190,793 bushels, and the average per acre 33 and 93-hundredths bushels.

BARLEY.—The area in barley in 1883 was 46,200 acres, the yield, 849,757 bushels, an average of 18 and 40-hundredths bushels per acre. The number of acres raised in 1879 was 54,506, bushels, 1,204,316, and average per acre 22 and 10-hundredths bushels.

HAY.

The number of acres of clover hay mowed in 1883 was 1,035,033, and number of tons, 1,422,928, an average per acre of 1 and 37-hundredths tons. The number of acres of hay other than clover mowed in 1883 was 674,825, and number of tons 865,219, an average of 1 and 28-hundredths tons per acre. The number of acres of hay mowed in 1879, as returned at the census of 1880, was 1,245,441, and the number of tons 1,393,845. The total area of hay mowed in 1879 was only 210,408 acres greater than the area of clover hay alone mowed in 1883.

SHEEP AND WOOL.

The number of sheep sheared in 1884 was 2,724,789, pounds of wool, 15,337,249, an average of 5 and 64-hundredths pounds per head. The number of sheep in the State June 1, 1880, was 2,189,389, and the wool clip of that year amounted to 11,858,497 pounds.

In the following table is shown for the State and counties, the average yield per acre of wheat, oats, barley and hay in 1883, and the average number of pounds of wool per head of sheep sheared in 1884:

SOILS.

The kinds of soil and number of farms of each kind are shown in Table IX. In reporting soils the enumerator selected such terms as seemed to best indicate the predominant soil of each farm. The soils of 156,399 farms are reported as follows: Clay, 16,658; sand, 22,089; sand loam, 34,025; clay loam, 53,387; clay and sand, 7,634; clay and sand loam, 6,093; gravel loam, 12,243; farms on which muck is reported, 2,049; marsh and loam, 376; alluvial, 146; prairie, 428: burr-oak openings, 124; miscellaneous, 1,147.

The number of acres in each of the crops wheat, corn, oats, and clover hay, and the per cent of the area in each of these crops to the total area of improved land is shown in the following table:

MANUFACTORIES.

In 1884 enumerators were instructed to report every establishment in which the production reached $200 annually. In 1880 the instructions were to report every establishment in which the production reached $500 annually.

The number of manufacturing establishments returned in 1884 is 8,302; in 1880, 8,873. The capital invested in manufacturing in 1884 is returned at $136,697,397; in 1880 at $92,930,959. In 1884 the average number of males above 16 years of age employed was returned at 114,890; of females above 15 years of age, at 8,245, and of children and youth at 5,872. The corresponding numbers in the census of 1880 are 68,445, 4,784, and 4,362. The wages paid during the year ending June 1, 1884, was $44,213,739, as compared with $25,313,682 paid during the year ending June 1, 1880.

The material used in 2,228 manufacturing establishments, or more than one-fourth of the whole number in the State, is taken directly from the forest tree. The capital invested in such establishments is $62,303,000; average number of adult males employed, 50,044, adult females, 866, children and youth, 2,431; wages paid during the year ending June 1, 1884, $17,310,227; number of establishments operated by water, 229, and number operated by steam, 1,881.

The following table shows, for all and for each specified industry, the aggregate number of establishments, the capital invested, the average number of hands employed, the wages paid, and the motive power:
